STAPLE AND FANCY MILLINERY!
No. 8, North Water Street (First Floor).

THE HOME OF MR. BEECHER.

From the New York Sun

A brown stone, three-story house at 124 Columbia Heights, only three blocks from Plymouth Church, is Mr. Beecher's residence. He has owned it and lived there for many years. It is one of the row of nearly like structures and the property in the neighborhood is very valuable. "The Heights" is the Murray Hill of Brooklyn, and Mr. Beecher's place is just within the limits of the district covered by that designation. The door has a plate inscribed "H W. Beecher." Just inside the hall stands an old-fashioned hat-rack with a mirror in it. Along the wall of the stairway leading to the second floor hang many framed engravings. The parlor opens off the hall and the door is always open. Looking in, one sees an apartment which has no counterpart as to odd variety of contents It is long and wide and old style in finish The walls are divided into pannels by projecting posts and by a wooden ledge that runs entirely around the room about four feet from the floor. Bunches and festoons of autumn leaves are hung plentifully about, and there are enough pictures, from oil paintings to cheap ferrotypes, to leave but little of the walls uncovered. The furniture is a chaos of styles. A sofa is high backed and mushy bottomed, merging into the softness of second childhood A concert grand piano is new and shiny. A nondescript cabinet, huge and time-worn, is in a corner A contrasting new bookcase is filled with fresh, gilt-backed volumes. Two yellow geographical globes, on high pedestals stand like sentinels in the corners of the fireplace. A table is covered with a brown woolen spread Everything is littered with big and little ornamental articles, as though the tokens of all the Beechers' birthdays and Christmases were therein preserved. Handsome bronzes, plaster figures, china articles, countless things impossible to describe as to material or intent, are on the mantle, on the table, on the cabinet and on carved brackets Lacking any semblance of method or taste in its furniture, the apartment gains in an air of careless comfort

Back of the parlor and connected by wide doors is Mr. Beecher's study — Sitting at one of the large windows one can look down upon the harbor, upon New York city, or over into Jersey city and Hoboken The view is one of busy life and commerce spread out like a diorama A large, flat topped writing desk, with many drawers, stands in the middle of the room. Paintings—better than any in the parlor—hang on parts of the wall not covered by book shelves. Camp chairs and a lounge furnish ample seating capacity for visitors. A stuffed easy chair provides for the owner

The late occurrences have changed Mr Beecher's home habits Formerly when not away from his farm, his hours for receiving calls were from 2 to 4 every afternoon, and he saw every body who called. The odd parlor was his reception room, and at 2 o'clock it usually held not less than a half dozen visitors To everybody, high or low, he was courteous and unstilted. His manner was off-handed and undignified. "How are you old fellow?" was his usual salutation to acquaintances. His study was the rendezvous of Plymouth's leaders, and many of the Brooklyn clergymen were frequent loungers there. Indeed, that floor of the house was much like the offices of a business man, the family occupying the two more secluded upper stories.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS FOR BEER.—The Roundout Freeman, of Tuesday says: "On the ferry-boat Lark, when she returned from connecting with the express train over the Hudson River railroad, due at Rhinecliff at 2·09 p m, on Monday, was one of Mr John Weber's stock wagons, and in the wagon were some calves and sheep,, not with their legs tied together and their heads laying over the side-boards, but standing up on all-fours with a cover over them to afford them shade Now, on the Lark, on her same trip, was a genteelly-dressed, bright-eyed, middle-aged man, who took particular attention of all the teams on board and their loads, and seemed particularly pleased with Weber's stock wagon and its contents Finally, this gentleman, after inquiring of the different persons, found out who was in charge of that wagon and the stock, and, searching him out, he thus addressed him. 'Have you charge of the animals in that wagon?' 'Yes sir.' 'Are you a butcher?' 'Yes' 'Always carry your animals as comfortably as that?' 'Well, we always try to.' Putting his hand in his pocket, the questioner drew forth a twenty-five cent bill, and, [presenting it to the person whom he had been questioning, he said. 'When you get ashore, go and get a glass of beer, and drink good luck to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals I am Mr. Bergh"

Prices Reduced on all light weight goods at Race's, to make room for fall stock. 29-dtf

No Humbug.—Closing out sale of Powers, Ferriss & Co's mammoth stock of boots and shoes, 18 East Main street, at cost, to make a change in their business. July 11, d-tf.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We, the delegated representatives of the Republican party of Illinois, declare the following to be substantially our political belief:

1. That emancipation and enfranchisement having been secured by the Thirteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and by appropriate legislation for their enforcement; and equality of civil rights having been guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment, such guaranty should be enforced by appropriate statutes, so that the broad ægis of Federal power may be over black and white citizens alike.

2. That, as one of the consequences of the late civil war, about $32,000,000 of non-interest bearing Treasury notes were issued to, and are now held by, the people as a safe and convenient currency, it would be unwise and inexpedient, in the present financial condition of the people, to attempt the immediate cancellation of any portion of such Treasury notes.

3. That the laws for the establishment of national banks having secured to the States and Territories the best system of bank circulation ever before afforded the people, it should be no longer confined to a privileged class, but should be free to all alike, under general and equal laws, the aggregate volume of currency to be regulated by the untrammeled laws of trade.

4 That we re-affirm the declaration of the National Republican Convention of 1872, in favor of a return to specie payment at the earliest practicable day.

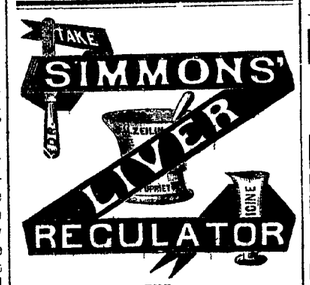

5. That we commend the measures which have passed the popular branch of Congress, looking to the cheapening and perfection of Inter-State railway transportation, and the improvement of navigation at the mouth of the Mississippi river.

6 That we are in favor of an amendment of the Constitution of the United States providing for the election of the President and Vice President by the direct vote of the people, without the intervention of the Electoral College.

7 That the Republican party proposes to respect the rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Federal Governments; and it will aim to secure the rights and privileges of the citizen without regard to nativity or creed, and it is opposed to interference by law with the habits, tastes or customs of individuals, except to suppress licentiousness or to preserve the peace and safety of the citizens of the State.

8. That while we accord to the railway companies of this State the fullest measure of property rights, we also demand for the people reasonable charges and rigid impartiality in the transportation of passengers and freight—such guaranty to be secured by appropriate State and National legislation

Relying upon the foregoing declaration of principles and policy, and upon the broad, clear record of the Republican party during its fifteen years of State and Federal administration, we appeal once more to that silent yet conclusive tribunal, the ballot-box, confident that the people will endorse overwhelmingly the action of this representative Convention.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION—11th DISTRICT

The Republican voters of the 11th Congressional District, embracing the counties of Champaign, Coles, Douglas, Macon, Platt and Vermillion, are requested to appoint delegates to attend a convention of said district to be held at Tuscola, Douglas county,

On the 25th day of August next,

at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative in Congress for said district, to be voted for at the election to be held in November next, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said convention. The basis of representation will be the same as that of the Republican State Convention, viz: One delegate for every 300 and fraction over 150 votes cast for Presidential Electors in 1872, which will entitle the respective counties of the said 11th congressional district to the following number of delegates, to-wit:

Champaign	10	Macon	7
Coles	7	Platt	4
Douglas	4	Vermillion	9

SOMEBODY HAS LIED—that's all we can make of it.

THE loss of life by the flood at Pittsburg is now estimated at 150, and the loss of property at $5,000,000 Nobody is to blame. It is what the express companies call "an act of God."

THE St. Paul Press contains the distressing announcement that "In consequence of the grasshopper raid in Brown county, the Sleepy Eye Argus, published monthly at Sleepy Eye, will for the present be discontinued." We have no particulars of the catastrophe, but presume that the insects attacked the office and ate up the material For the sake of Sleepy Eye, we hope soon to learn that the paper has been re established

AN exchange thinks one of the great mysteries of life is why any able bodied man should prefer to lug around a hand-organ and grind out dismal sounds for seventy-five cents a day in pennies and nickels, when he could get two dollars and a half a day for working in the harvest fields, with a less out-lay of perspiration. There is a very low view of the organ-grinder business The real object of the noble Italians who engage in it is to disseminate, a taste for music, and to soothe savage breasts by means of its charms. Money is no object with them.

THE attempt of certain Kentucky swash bucklers to revive "the code" by moving on the works of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is likely to give them a good deal of unenviable notoriety The parties of the first part were Judge Major, who felt aggrieved by the Enquirer's comments on his action in the Terrell case, and one George B. Hodge, a representative of Kentucky chivalry, who officiated as "his friend, sir." These two distinguished individuals set up a nice little game to force the editor of the Enquirer into a duel, and because he outwitted them, and contemptuously declined to be drawn into a shooting match, they are pawing up the dark and bloody ground of Kentucky and pronouncing the Enquirer man a coward. The manner in which he is ridiculing and denouncing both of these genteel bullies does not look much as if he were afraid of them, and our opinion is that before the affair is ended they will wish they had never began it

Farmers and others who are disposed to complain nowadays must look up something besides the through freights on grain. Here is what it costs to send a bushel of wheat from Chicago to New York:

Steam from Chicago to Buffalo	3 7-8c
Elevating at Buffalo	1-2c
Rail from Buffalo to New York	8c
	11 3-8c

It will better enable the inquisitive to understand how marvelously cheap this is to tell them that the Erie Canal tolls on grain and boat are 3 2 cents, or more than the lake freights all the way from Chicago to Buffalo. They will then begin to comprehend that there is something besides railway monopoly to grumble about The freight to Liverpool is proportionately low—After paying 11⅜ cents to get the wheat to New York, it costs three cents for handling it in that city, and 6½d, or about 11 cents, to transport it from New York to Liverpool This makes a total cost from Chicago to Liverpool less than 28½ cents. If grain in Liverpool holds a fair price, the prospect for the farmers this year seems to be all they can reasonably demand.—Chicago Tribune.

FLIES.

The Indianapolis Journal says. Speaking of flies, it must be confessed that there is nothing very lovely or elevating about them, but they have their uses nevertheless. Those who consider them an unmixed nuisance and pest are unmindful of the economy of nature, which permits nothing to live in vain. The festive fly which wakens you in the early hours of dawn by feeding on your damask cheek, or which irritates you at the breakfast table by bathing his wearied limbs in your coffee, is really one of your best friends. Any one acquainted with the natural history of this interesting but much abused insect, will tell you that its larvæ feeds on the decaying and vegetable matter found in stables, sinks, and drains and scattered in other places over the surface of the earth. The larvæ are efficient scavengers, rapidly consuming all waste animal and vegetable products that are undergoing decomposition, and diminishing very greatly the noxious exhalations arising from them. In very many places, and in most cities and villages, these putrescent substances, which our sloth and carelessness leave to the sanitary care of the flies, are so abundant that, without their services, a pestilence would surely be the result. And as the fly is bred and has his first home only in such substances as these, every one of them is a buzzing witness that the scavengers and health commissioners have not done their work, or perhaps that your own premises are not as clean as they might be. Thanks to that economy of nature, which is much more perfect than we are wont to consider it, these "pests" will increase just as the work we give them to do increases, and will diminish just as fast as we diminish their work By the use of fly-paper and patent traps we are working the wrong place. We are attempting the removal of a beneficent annoyance, which ought to admonish us of neglected duties. And should we succeed in removing it in this way, the pestilence that would follow would be many fold worse than the "plague of flies" Deprive them of their work, and they will disappear and leave no plague behind These remarks are not intended to prove that flies are ornamental on the end of one's nose or agreeable in one's coffee, but that they are really useful as scavengers and contributors to the public health. Still, this is no reason why, when you take a glass of soda, you should order a fly in it.

SATISFACTORY assurances having been given to the government of Great Britain as to the purposes of the Brussels congress, representatives have been sent by that power to take a part in the proceedings, subject to the restrictions hitherto announced. The object of the congress is fair enough on its face. Most of the reforms contemplated are greatly needed,—imperatively demanded, by the civilization of the age, and if adopted they will do much to mitigate the horrors of war.—Among the more notable of the reforms that are suggested in the protocol are declarations than an army of occupation has no right to seize churches, establishments of charity, and institutions; the seizure of monuments, works of art, or museums, is severely reprehended, among the means of war which are forbidden are the use of poison, treacherous murder, murder of prisoners, and refusal to give quarter, threats of extermination toward a garrison that obstinately defends a fort ross, employment of arms causing useless suffering, such as projectiles filled with powder, glass, or explosive balls of less than 400 grammes in weight. These will commend themselves to all humane persons as calculated to make war if inevitable, less to be deplored.

TO THE roll of heroes must be added another name, that of James Bassford The telegraph tells in simple words the story of his heroism. A passenger train on the West Wisconsin Railway was rushing down the track, about fifty miles from St Paul. A little child toddled out between the rails and stood, all unconscious of danger, in front of the rapidly approaching train. The speed was too great and the distance too short to expect aid from the brakes. James Bassford, the fireman, seeing this, determined to save the child's life at the risk of his own. Running forward, he took his stand on the pilot. Nearer the engine came, until but a few feet intervened between it and the child Springing forward, he caught the child, but missing his hold was struck by the locomotive and thrown far down the embankment By this time the brakes had halted the train, and the child was taken from under the tender, scared, but unhurt.

Woman does not appear to be an office seeker in California, although all the educational offices, except that of Superintendent, have been opened to the sex The elections have been held all over the State, and but two women have appeared as candidates for the office of school trustee One of these a widow in Contra Costa County, was chosen to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, walked over the course without opposition. The other got 22 votes, but a man got 74 and the trusteeship.

BEECHER-TILTON.

Beecher calls on Moulton to Testify.

THE CONCLUSION OF CARPENTER'S STORY.

WHAT DR. STORRS HAD TO SAY.

Same News from Milwaukee

The Bourbons in Council.

Relief for the Pittsburg Sufferers.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Brooklyn Eagle says: "We are informed and authorized to announce that Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has very recently written a letter to Mr. Frank Moulton, in which Mr. Beecher earnestly asks and adjures Mr. Moulton to go before the committee and exhibit all he has, and tell all he knows, with reference to the matters in the controversy between Theodore Tilton and Henry Ward Beecher. This letter is declared to be long, explicit, earnest, unmistakable, and to the effect that Mr. Beecher has no wish to, and Mr. Moulton no alternative but to go before the committee and fully and frankly to say all he can say forthwith. This earnest letter of request from Mr Beecher, coming in with the request of the committee itself, will reach or has reached Mr Moulton at Narragansett Pier, where he has been with his wife."

The Argus to-day concludes Mr Carpenter's story of the difficulty between Messrs. Beecher and Tilton The report yesterday ended at the point where Mr. Carpenter made allusion to Oliver Johnson's connection with the case Mr Johnson stated before the committee that Tilton never charged in his hearing that Beecher had been criminally intimate with Mrs Tilton

Mr. Carpenter is willing to swear that his first absolute conviction that there had been adultery between Mr. Beecher and Mrs Tilton was derived from the statement of Oliver Johnson to that effect.

Mr. Carpenter continues: I can prove that Oliver Johnson used these words "My lips are sealed by a solemn promise, but if I should disclose what I know, the roof of Plymouth Church would come right off." Another time Mr. Johnson said to me. "I know a great deal more about this case than you do, and what you know is bad enough."

Mr. Carpenter says he accompanied Mr. Tilton when he went to Dr. Storrs for advice, and the latter said: "Dr. Storrs, I come to you for advice in regard to the proper action to be taken by myself in reference to the statements made in the Woodhull letter.

Dr. Storrs replied. "I have not read the statement made by Mrs. Woodhull, but if you think it of sufficient importance to merit attention, I will do so."

Dr. Storrs read Woodhull's story, and a few days later, when Mr. Tilton visited him said: "Mr Tilton, I have read this paper carefully, and, if the statements are true, I draw from them four conclusions."

Mr. Tilton asked what the four conclusions were.

Dr. Storrs then said.

"1. That Mr. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton had criminal relations.

"2 That you discovered that

"3. That Mr. Beecher recieved a paper from Mrs. Tilton denying that such relations had ever existed

"4 That Mr Moulton got that paper from Mr. Beecher.

Mr. Tilton said "Dr Storrs, what if these points can't be denied?"

Dr Storrs replied "If these points can't be denied, I have no advice to give. An evasion would be worse than silence."

Mr. Tilton said to Dr. Storrs that he had not told the truth and could not tell the whole truth.

Gen. Tracy said to-day the committee hoped to end the whole thing this week Mr. Moulton, Mr. Beecher, and one or two minor witnesses, were all there to be examined

The Beecher examining committee met again to night in Brooklyn, but adjourned after a session lasting one hour without, it is believed, examining any witnesses.

Mr. Moulton was to submit the letters held by him at to-night's session, but he did not put in his appearance It was stated that Mr Beecher will not lay his detailed statement before the committee until Mr. Moulton's testimony has been taken.

MILWAUKEE July 29—The Sentinel this morning publishes an interview with Hon. E D Holton, referred to in the dispatches last evening as being present when Bowen said that a tripartite agreement was not a retraction of the charges against Beecher so far as he (Bowen) was concerned. Mr. Holton admitted that he was present, and that he remembered the conversation, but declined to give any details at present.

The Sentinel to-morrow will contain an interview with E. D. Holton, mentioned in last night's dispatches as being present at the interview with Bowen and Carpenter, and refers to Mr Tilton's letter published in the Brooklyn Union a year ago last spring. The letter is dated January 1, 1871, calling Mr. Bowen's attention to the statement made by him that Beecher had been guilty of improprieties with a number of women, and was unsafe for visits to houses of members of the church.

Mr Holton saw the letter while in Hartford, went to New York and called on Mr. Bowen. Mr Carpenter was present and talked about the letter—Mr. Holton asked Mr. Bowen squarely if he had made such charges against Mr Beecher to Beecher himself, and if he knew them to be true. Mr. Bowen refused to acknowledge or deny their truth. Mr. Holton construed silence into the admission that Mr. Tilton's letter truthfully stated what had transpired.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, July 28.—Messrs Sailor and Ward, of the Sub-Committee of the Congressional Investigating Committee, completed their labors this evening. Just before adjourning Gov. Baxter was on the stand when he stated that some disreputable proposals had been made to him by Asa Hodges, member of Congress from the First District. The Governor made a remark to this effect, when Hodges, who was standing by, said, "That's a lie."

Baxter—"You are another." [Everybody rising to their feet.]

Hodge—"I say it's a lie." [General confusion.]

Baxter—"You are another." [Great confusion."

Mr. Ward.—"Gentlemen, you must stop this! The committee will listen to no such proceedings We have not come here to investigate private quarrels."

Matters then quieted down and the Committee adjourned. They leave for home to morrow.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill, July 28.—A motion to change the management of the Gilman, Clinton and Springfield Railroad, or, in other words, to place the management of the road in the hands of the old Board of Directors, will be argued in the McLean circuit court on the 4th of August next. The old board have expressed a willingness to enter into bonds that they will run the road in a creditable manner if the control of the road is taken out of the hands of the receiver and given to them. They say further that their management of the road will be in strict accordance with the orders of the court Gov. John M. Palmer and Hon. C. H. Moore, of Clinton, will appear for the directors.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—Subscriptions to the relief fund are coming in rapidly, over $20,000 have been raised. Three bodies were found to-day, these are A. Conlin, John W. Rogers and a little daughter of Mr Forden A child of Mr. Gorman is the only one missing at Wood's Run. In an opening made in the sewer to drain Voightly Meadow, this afternoon, shawls, etc, were found, indicating that bodies are there.

Twenty bridges were swept away by the flood in the county, entailing a loss of about $40,000. In Butcher's Run District alone it is said that more than 20,000,000 cubic feet of water fell in the space of an hour and a half.

CHICAGO, July 29.—In response to a call issued by Cyrus H. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, some three weeks ago, that body convened at the Sherman House this morning, and after some preliminary business the meeting adjourned till 2:30 p. m.

The cause was presented for a meeting of the Democracy, Liberals, and all other opponents of the Republican party, in Springfield, on Wednesday Aug. 26th, The call is signed by members of the committee who were present and endorsed by a number of persons who have formerly acted with the Republican party, among whom are A. C. Hessing and Herman Raster, of the Illinois Staats Zeitung. The names of J. R. Doolittle and A. R. Mattison, of the Times also appear.

NEW YORK, July 29—The Secretary of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. in this city considers the fact of the Acapulco passing so near the scene of the wreck of the City of Gautemala without seeing any signs of that steamer as ominous of further disaster to her. It is feared she may have entirely gone to pieces.

GEORGETOWN, Del, July 28—At the Republican State Convention here to day, Dr. Isaac Jump, of Dover, was nominated for Governor, and the Hon. J. R. Lofland, of Milford, for Congress.

THERE was considerable excitement in the corn market in this city yesterday. A large number of contracts for July delivery remained unprovided for, and through the competition between buyers prices were forced from sixty-three to sixty-nine cents. The market is undoubtedly under the control of a strong combination, and an effort will probably be made to advance prices to a still higher range—Inter Ocean 29th

Suspicious.—It was thought to be a fact of painful significance that the Odd Fellows this morning took their lunch baskets to undertaker Givler's office. This proceeding would seem to indicate that they expected to have employment for that functionary in the course of the day We hope they may be disappointed in this regard, and that they may pass through the festivities of the day without a scratch

Taking a Snooze.—Last evening about half past nine, we noticed a fellow taking a quiet nap on what seemed to be a salt barrel in front of one of the groceries on South Main street We had suspicions that he might possibly wake up this morning under Hoffacker s hospitable roof It such was the case the police record will declare it

"PUBLIC HIGHWAYS."

Farmer Coltrin Proposes to Buy the Train on the I. & I. C. for the Decatur Township Farmers' Club.

When the county of Macon, in the state of Illinois, levied on a locomotive and two coaches of the Indiana and Illinois Central Railway, Tuesday evening, it seemed at first that we had an elephant on our hands To run the train would involve a lease of the road, which, judging from all previous financial experience, would not prove a very profitable investment, and might exercise a tendency to increase our already heavy obligations to the hard hearted railroad monopolists.

Farmer Coltrin, familiarly called in the hay field, an enthusiastic granger, who has made the subject of cheap transportation a life study, comes forward at the critical moment to the relief of the puzzled community, and offers to purchase the train himself. He has been cogitating deeply on the subject, and thinks that he has at length solved the knotty problem to the satisfaction of himself and the club, if not of the world at large In accordance with the very rational theory of that horny handed granger,

EX-GOVERNOR PALMER,

he believes that every free born American possesses a native right to a railroad, and proposes to run his train freely on these public highways. The amount of taxes due from the I & I C Company is $1,800, for which sum the train could be purchased if the debt is not liquidated It is thought, however, that the unfortunate circumstances of the road could be taken advantage of to obtain the cars at two or three hundred dollars less By a convenient arrangement under the existing principles of law and liberty endorsed by Farmer Coltrin and the club, the train could be leased to private parties and run over any railway in the Union, at the wish of whim of the excursionists The terms are to be the same as those of other companies,

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION

being abhorred as a crime It is also deemed contrary to law and equity to permit a horde of hungry railway monopolists to realize greater profits for the same services than an honest granger We fully endorse these views of Farmer Coltrin, who, if not a representive man of the Decatur Township Farmers' Club, his fellow agriculturists, Farmer Lindsay and Farmer Jack will have to be sent for Now if some of the famishing engineers on the Paris and Decatur railway, who have been working for the past eight months without any pay, could only be hired at a dollar and a quarter per diem, or some unfortunate conductor who has been kicked out of his position by the whim of a

BLOATED RAILWAY AUTOCRAT,

be engaged at $30 a month, we would believe in the existence of such an article as economical administration, and have faith in the hue and cry of retrenchment and reform

ODD FELLOWS' PICNIC.

Order of Procession—Line of March—Marshals, Etc.

A more beautiful day could not have been vouchsafed for the Odd Fellows' picnic and festival than is this. Though the sun is bright the heat has not been excessive in any part of the day, and the bracing air is well calculated to inspire everybody with life and energy.

At an early hour the brethren of the fraternity were seen hurrying to and fro with their regalias in hand, and at about half past eight the Decatur silver cornet band struck up some lively airs in front of the Odd Fellows' headquarters, which was a signal for the brethren to assemble at that point

At about nine o'clock the procession was formed under the direction of H B Durfee, Esq , as chief marshal, and Geo. W. Baker, Esq , as assistant marshal, the following order being observed

First the city police force as escort, under the lead of Marshal Haworth, next the Decatur cornet band, followed by the members of the two lodges of the city—the members of the Encampment bringing up the rear—all clothed in the regalia of the order, The procession thus formed passed down East Main to Water street, thence north to the park, thence east to Franklin, thence north to North street, thence west to North Main, thence north to the railroad crossing, where they embarked upon a special train for the fair grounds

Quite a number of citizens, not members of the order, accompanied the party, to participate in the festivities of the day, and numbers have been going and coming throughout the day.

At the time the procession moved this morning none of the speakers expected had arrived, but were expected on the mid day trains The doings at the fair grounds will be duly chronicled in our columns to morrow To day we can only say that the occasion is hugely enjoyed by those participating, and that it will be remembered by those who are in attendance as among the pleasantest gatherings of the kind they have ever enjoyed

Don t forget that at Goldburg's you get the best hoop skirts, corsets and bustles.

TEMPERANCE

Open air meeting on Sabbath evening, at 6½ o clock, in the City Park The bells will ring at 6 o'clock There will be three 10 minute speeches, singing, and prayer Every one is invited to attend

The class of men these meetings are designed to benefit can be reached in no other or better way than to show, by our example and precept, "what our manner of life is," and, also, that we, from the fact that we are christians, have a deep interest in their spiritual welfare, and show them, by our earnestness, "that we mean just what we say we mean ' Some have said, "I am just as strong on the temperance question as anyone" If so, there is at the present time an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the truth "Actions speak louder than words" Saying we are thus and so, yet taking no decided stand, is very much like saying "fire is a terrible thing," and at the same time remain a block or two away, holding in our hand the water with which, by a timely act, we might avert. Oh, Christians! bearing the image of Christ, how can you remain so indifferent? Will you persist in so marring that blessed image that your fellow men shall fail to see any beauty in Him, and even the Master shall fail to recognize it in you God forbid that we only have a name to live, and at the last shall hear the lamentable denunciation, "Go away, I never knew you" * * *

JUSTICE'S COURT.

The People vs. Jas. Carmichael.

Yesterday afternoon the case of The People vs. James Carmichael, in which he was charged with stealing a pocket book containing $43 in money, from Levi Brindle, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Albert, Messrs. Eldridge and Hostetler appearing for the people, and W. Tecumseh Cussins for the defendant.

Mr. Hostetler stated the case for the people, and Mr. Brindle, Mr. Dawson and Deputy Marshal Hewes were sworn as witnesses.

Mr. Brindle testified that he came to Dawson's boarding house on Monday night last, about 11 o'clock; was put in a room to sleep where there were three beds, two of them were occupied, and he took the third. He knew he had his pocket book when near Dawson's house, on Monday night, as he had his hand on it On Tuesday morning he came down to breakfast, and soon after leaving the house missed the pocket book and returned and informed Mr. Dawson of his loss. They came down town for a policeman to assist in the search for it, got no one to go with them then, and returned to the house to renew the search. After looking in various places they discovered that Carmichael's tool chest, in the hall, had the key in the lock and upon trying it found it unlocked — They searched the chest, and found the pocket book under the till They then went for officer Hewes, who came and took possession of the pocket book

Mr. Dawson testified to substantially the same facts

Officer Hewes testified to taking the lost property from the tool chest and taking charge of it He also testified as to the contents of the pocket book when it came into his hands, which corresponded with what Brindle claimed to have in the one lost

A pocket book was shown to each of these witnesses in the course of their testimony, and they all swore that it was the same one found by them in the chest, and Brindle swore positively that it was the same one that he lost

Some witnesses were then examined with reference to the previous good character of the accused, the evidence given by one of them being damaging rather than helpful to him

The case was then argued at length by counsel, whereupon the court decided that though the evidence against the prisoner was circumstantial, it was, in his opinion, sufficient to bind him over to appear at the next term of the circuit court He therefore ordered that the prisoner give a bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance as stated, in default of which he was committed to the county jail

In the course of the examination of witnesses in this case there was a good deal of sparring between the attorneys, and W. Tecumseh hopped about as if sitting on pins, and if pulling will make his mustache grow, he must have a bouncer this morning The manner in which the trial was conducted was at once amusing and ridiculous

V. Barber & Co are rushing off their goods at cost to make way for fall fall and winter stock. They will not be undersold Call and prove it.

THE JANESVILLE GRAPE

RIPENS AUG. 15TH.

STANDS THE WISCONSIN WINTERS unprotected. Recommended by the Wisconsin State Horticultural Society for general cultivation in 1874. What we have long needed is a good early grape. The Hartford has been the best heretofore, but with bad faults. The Janesville is Hardy, is Productive, is Grawthy—every way as good as the Concord, and ten days earlier than the Hartford. The Janesville and the Concord, we predict, will run side by side, extending the season of that delicious fruit.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye.

FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation; which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.
